

The legalization of cannabis on October 17, 2018, has highlighted concern about impairment in the workplace. This is not a new issue, and is not limited to cannabis. The company Rules and Regulation policy provides for a ZERO TOLERANCE regarding the use of illegal drugs, legal drugs that impair the workers ability to work safely, and the use of alcohol.

Failure to comply will result in disciplinary action.

